Sharing Accounts Isn't Sharing Toys

CyberNut

Question 1:

Chip says that sharing toys and snacks is awesome, but sharing your password is like sharing your _____.

- A) Best crayons.
- B) Toothbrush.
- C) Favorite book.

Correct Answer: B

Why? Chip explains that some things, like toothbrushes and passwords, are personal and are not meant to be shared with anyone else!

Question 2: Why does Chip say your password is like the key to a 'Digital Treehouse'?

A) Because if you give the key away, someone could go inside and mess up your stuff.

B) Because treehouses are made of wood.

C) Because passwords are fun to climb.

Correct Answer:

Why? Chip warned that if someone else uses your login, they might accidentally break something or see private things like your grades.

Question 3:

Your best friend asks to use your login to play a game quickly. What is the safe way to help them?

- A) Whisper your password in their ear so no one else hears.
- B) Write it on a piece of paper for them.
- C) Help them log in to their own account instead.

Correct Answer: C

Why? Chip says you can be a helpful friend by showing them how to use their own account, but you should never give away yours!
